at the house of Miss Harris, who resides at 93 Madison street, paying a week in advance. He told her he was a United States secret agent, and expected to capture four men and keep them there a day or two. He handed her the Fincham check, telling her to take ou Il but $22 50 for their board. She declined to negotiate the check, and went at once to Chief Davis. Returning home she managed to obtain the check, but gave him no money. He had only $2 in his possession, and went sadly to the lockup JURORS SELECTED

In the Chancery Court yesterday a suit for divorce was filed in the usual legal formula by J. B. Fogard against Irens Fogard. The candid husband admits his failure to inspire the fickle Irens with sufficient affection to bind her to him with hooks of steel, and declares that she s now engaged in alluring other men to her arms and to their own ruin and his, a a house at Hilman's Mines, near Birming-ham, Ala. He, therefore, asks the court to sever the ties that bind him to her.
